

CONSTABULARY AND STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATES (IRELAND).

RETURN to an Order of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 8 May 1870;—for,

RETURNS " of the SCALE by which GRATUITIES from the CONSTABULARY REWARD FUND are computed, with COPY of CIRCULARS on the Subject issued for the Information of STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATES and OFFICERS of CONSTABULARY in Ireland:

- " Of the Annual Amount realised by STOPPAGES from STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATES and OFFICERS of CONSTABULARY in Ireland on account of the SUPERANNUATION and REWARD FUND respectively since the Year 1864;"
- " Of RETIRED OFFICERS of the FORCE and STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATES at present receiving ANNUITIES out of the SUPERANNUATION FUND, specifying the Amount paid to each, and their Length of Services in each Rank respectively;"
- " And, of the SALARIES paid to the several STIPENDIARY MAGISTRATES in Ireland, as well as the Allowances and Length of Service of each."

RETURN, No. 1.

CIRCULAR to CONSTABULARY on the Subject of GRATUITIES from the REWARD FUND, showing SCALE.

WIDOWS AND CHILDREN.

THE following scale (which does not materially differ from that previously acted upon) is provided for the case of widows and children, and takes effect from the 1st instant. It is based upon the rate of salary received (and, consequently, the amount of contribution paid to the fund) by the deceased member of the force:—

1. Widows and Children of Members Dying in the Force.

(1.) Every such widow (except as stated below) shall receive at the rate of 10 d. in the pound for £1. to every £4 £. of her deceased husband's salary, and in proportion to the period of his service at each rate.

(2.) But no widow shall be entitled to any gratuity whatever who shall not have been married to the deceased at least 12 months prior to his death.

(3.) Should any widow be known to be of intemperate or other improper habits, the gratuity may be reduced or altogether withheld, as the Inspector General, upon clear evidence so that effect, shall recommend.

(4.) For every child of either sex (except as stated in the next paragraph) under the age of 21, if the deceased parent be an officer, or of 18 if he be a head or other constable, there will be an allowance of one-fourth of what is payable to the widow, according to paragraph (1).

(5.) But no child, of any age, who has been married, can be included in the foregoing provision.

(6.) It is fairly to be presumed that the mother is the best guardian of the interests of her young children; the entire grant for widow and children will, therefore, in each case (except as stated below) be paid to the widow for her own and the children's benefit.

(7.) But should there be any known circumstances rendering such an arrangement undesirable (a case, however, which but rarely occurs), the children's portion may be paid, for their benefit, to such other person, or in such other way, as the Inspector General shall, upon due inquiry, recommend.

To aid the force in comprehending the foregoing regulation, a simple example is subjoined.

RETURNS RELATING TO THE CONSTABULARY

RETURN, No. 1.—Circular to Constabulary on the Subject of Gratuities, &c.—continued.

Suppose the case of a second head constable, dying in the force after a service of 30 years, having passed through the several grades of salary stated below, and having five children under 18 years of age, the gratuity payable to the widow for herself and children would be thus ascertained:—

R. A. N. E.	Rate of Salary.	Supposed Service.	Gratuity to Widow, 10 d. in £ of salary.
Sub-constable	£. s. d.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.
- - - - -	94 - -	9 0	- 10 -
	97 14 -	5 0	5 0 11
	99 - -	2 0	2 5 -
Acting constable	44 4 -	1 0	1 16 10
Constable	49 8 -	16 0	39 18 8
Second head constable	61 2 -	5 0	18 14 7
		30 0
	Widow's gratuity	- -	57 12 -
	Five children under 18	- -	72 - -
	Total payable to Widow for herself and Children	- - - £.	129 12 -

By this example every married member of the force, of whatever rank, may at any time estimate the amount coming to his widow out of the fund, in case of his death.

2. Widows and Children of Superannuated Members of the Force.

Members of the force, on their superannuation, may continue to subscribe to the Reward Fund or not, as they choose; but the families of only such as give immediate notice of their desire and intention to do so, can derive any benefit from the Reward Fund.

There a distinction exists between those who retired prior to the passing of the Act 29 & 30 Vict. c. 103, and those superannuated subsequently thereto. It is not intended to make any alteration in the case of members who retired prior to the passing of the above-cited Act. The widow's scale heretofore in existence was based upon a principle of allowing 17. for every 27*l.* 14*s.* of salary received; but no allowance was made for the period between superannuation and death. In other respects the regulations nearly resemble those above set forth.

Members superannuated since the said Act, and their widows and children, come within the operation of the 8th section, and the only difference between the allowance to such widows (which correspondingly affects also that of the children) is, that for the period between superannuation and death the allowance will be 10*s.* per cent. on the pension received, instead of 10*d.* in the pound on the salary.

No allowances can be granted to any widow who had not been married 12 months prior to her husband leaving the service.

J. Stewart Wood, Inspector General.

RETURN, No. 2.

This Return is only an approximation to the amount actually stopped, as there is not any distinction made between the stoppages from officers and those from head and other constables in the accounts.
